

Lucian Piccioni

Luciano Piccioni is President of RCI Consulting, a company he established in 2001 to offer innovative planning and economic development services to both public and private sector clients. RCI Consulting has prepared more municipal brownfield redevelopment strategies and community improvement plans than any other consultant in Canada. Luciano has also provided professional services to a number of ministries in the Province of Ontario, and he was the lead consultant assisting the Province of British Columbia Ministry of Agriculture and Lands with development of British Columbia's Brownfield Redevelopment Strategy.

Luciano has over 20 years experience in planning and economic development in both the public and private sectors. He is recognized as one of Canada's leading experts in brownfield redevelopment planning, community improvement plans, and the development and implementation of municipal financial incentive programs. Luciano has spoken at numerous conferences in Canada, the U.S. and Europe and has also published several papers on brownfield redevelopment, financial incentives and land use planning.

Luciano is a member of the Ontario Professional Planners Institute, Canadian Institute of Planners, and he is certified to practice economic development in Canada. He holds an Honours B.A. in Urban Geography from McMaster University and a Masters of Science in Planning from the University of Toronto.